

Resources based on The Forgettery, by Rachel Ip & illustrated by Laura Hughes
Farshore Books

Butterfly hand prints

In the story, Granny's memories flutter around her like butterflies, paper thin and delicate. Follow the instructions to make your own butterfly handprints:

www.rachelip.com

www.laurahughes-illustrator.co.uk

1. You'll need:

- Paper, a pencil, scissors
- coloured crayons or pens

2. Fold the paper and place your hand on the fold. Draw around your hand.

3. Cut around your handprint. Ask an adult to help if needed.

4. Open up your butterfly handprint!

5. Think about the memory you'd like to remember. You can write a poem or a haiku:

6. You can draw a picture :

7. Or make a collage:

8. You can make lots of butterflies!

